SUNDAY SERVICES AT 10 A.M.

May 3 Hunger In the second in a series of two sermons about hunger, the Green Sanctuary Committee explores hunger on the local level and ponders what we can do. Music by Nell Britton.

May 10 "Compassion 4" In the fourth of four sermons scattered throughout the year, Rev. Stocker brings us yet deeper into the subject of compassion. Music by the choir under the direction of Heidi Nefeld and Nell Bretton, pianist.

Please note: We will conduct a food drive during the service. Please bring non-perishable food items to donate to the food bank. In addition, we will take a second collection for the First Universalist Church of Southold, NY, whose church was destroyed by fire on March 14.

May 17 Religious Education Sunday. We celebrate our Sunday school and hear our kids and teachers present what they have learned. Director of Religious Education Nicole Shanks will lead the service. Music by Jud Caswell.

May 24 "Meeting in the Real-ness" Guest minister Rev. Erika Hewitt preaching. We live in a culture permeated by shame, which researcher Brené Brown defines as the fear of disconnection. As a result, we lose our ability to be vulnerable and to engage with the world. What would our communities look and feel like if instead we dared to live from our vulnerability, empathy, and connection? Music by Larry Lemmel.

(Note: On this Sunday, Rev. Stocker will be preaching in Augusta to cover for one Sunday while Rev. Carie Johnsen is on sabbatical.)

May 31. Coming of Age Service All year long our youth have been studying, volunteering, thinking, and exploring as they seek to put words to their individual theologies. This service is the capstone of the Coming of Age program: In a service the youth have designed themselves, we will hear their Credo ("I believe") statements, music, and other reflections. Come hear what they have to say and celebrate their special day. Music by Jean Lay and the Coming of Age participants.

... MINISTER'S MUSINGS ...

MORE SABBATICAL NEWS

Some of you have asked for more information about my upcoming sabbatical. Planning for it is making me step out of my usual habits. I'm the kind of person who doesn't plan vacations until I am actually on vacation! But a sabbatical is different, as it requires making plans for the church while I am gone and also making my own plans to use the gift of time wisely.

These are the dates in question: October to December will be sabbatical months; January will be a month of vacation and study time. April 15 to July 15, 2016, will be sabbatical months; July 15 to August 15, 2016, will be vacation and study time.

Here, so far, is what I plan to do with the time: In October I will attend the World Parliament of Religions in Salt Lake City. Steve is going with me, and we are considering either driving or taking the train so that we can see the country a bit. In May (2016) I will attend the Festival of Homiletics in Atlanta Georgia.

Other plans are more home-based: I have some art projects I am eager to explore. I am definitely not artistic by nature, but I want to stretch myself a bit. I plan learn more about the art of pysanky (Ukrainian egg dyeing) and work on some collages for which I have been saving materials forever. Also, I plan to review the history of our congregation that Minister Emeritus Brad Mitchell has completed. Last, I plan to spend some time doing some on-line study at the Worship Design Studio, a resource created by worship specialist Marcia McFee. Throughout, of course, I plan to continue my walking program – now somewhat of an addiction for me!

I am still mulling some other ideas – chiefly a possible trip to Scotland with Steve and our son (Stocker is a Scottish name), and/or a trip south to visit our nation's Civil Rights historical locations.

In light of the sabbatical, I have taken advantage of a district program to fill the pulpit for most of the Sundays I am away during the September to June “regular church year.” (Summer Sundays in 2016 are not filled yet, but I have an idea for those to discuss with the Worship Committee. More later.) District churches agree to share their ministers in sabbatical periods so that no church is left with a big gap of unfilled Sundays. Thus, over the years, both Karen Foley and I have periodically filled pulpits for other churches. (In fact, I am filling the Augusta pulpit this month, the Allen Avenue Portland pulpit in June, and the Sanford pulpit in October; Karen is filling the 1st Parish Portland pulpit next March – all to support the pulpit sharing program.) Now, as a result of our district exchange, an excellent line-up of guest ministers awaits your attention! Usually when ministers visit in this way, they bring their finest sermons with them, so you will be treated to some special preaching next year.

Ministers will not fill every Sunday. (Our district isn't that big.) Besides, sabbatical is a chance for lay people to bring their own creativity to the pulpit. Thus some Sundays will be filled by other guests from the community, parishioners in our congregation, and various committees. Before I leave, I will publish a schedule of pulpit guests.

Meanwhile, a Sabbatical Committee is hard at work, making plans for my time away next year. Members of the committee are: Mary Larson, Cindy Parker, Dan Ellis, Sharon Brown, and Wendy Roundy. We are putting systems in place to cover all the bases while I am gone. Although my time away may seem lengthy, it will pass quickly (undoubtedly for me, especially!), and with the help of the Sabbatical Committee, smoothly.

Please feel free to ask me any questions or share any concerns you have about the sabbatical. Or, for that matter, feel free to share your delights and wisdom gained from past sabbatical periods. As always, I am interested in hearing what you have to say.

Much love,
Sylvia

FELLOWSHIP GALLERY

The Fellowship Gallery, located in the Fellowship Hall of the Unitarian Universalist Church of Brunswick, continues to rotate exhibits by talented local artists.

Starting April 9 through May 13, local artist Jamie Ribisi-Braley will exhibit a group of paintings entitled Working Through. The gallery is open to the public Tue.-Fri. from 10am-4pm and on Sundays from 10-12 noon.

NEW FLAMING CHALICE GRACES THE FRONT OF OUR BUILDING!

On April 22, the Building and Grounds Committee deemed the snow to be melted enough to haul out some ladders and install a new metal flaming chalice sculpture on the front of our building. Crafted by Uriah Bueller, the same artist who created the flaming chalice that adorns our sanctuary, the new one features a rainbow flame to mark our commitment to welcoming and supporting the GLBTQ community. The chalice is beautiful, and it artistically pulls the front of the church together nicely. Come by and see it!

The installation was the brainchild of former Building Team member Laura Jackson, who had always envisioned a chalice in that spot. She approached the Board with her idea, and, once the idea was approved, communicated our wishes to Uriah Bueller, who made the sanctuary wall chalice. You may recall the sanctuary chalice was a gift from Richard Barrett, the grandson of the Rev. Otto Raspe, who served our congregation during the First World War. Mr. Barrett, on hearing of our interest in a second chalice, generously offered to gift us once again.

We have been so blessed by the generosity of people far and wide who have stood by us while we recovered from our fire and rebuilt our church. May we respond in kind this month when we take up a collection for the Southold NY Universalist Church who lost their building to fire in March.

Sylvia Stocker

MAY'S CHARITY WITH SOUL

Restorative Justice Project of the Midcoast

Formed in February 2005, The Restorative Justice Project of the Midcoast provides restorative conferences for adult and juvenile offenders in Knox, Waldo, Lincoln and Sagadahoc Counties and an array of restorative justice services for the Maine Coast Regional Reentry Center and for K-12 schools. The focus on offender accountability, coupled with a focus on the impact of the offense on the victim and community, has significantly decreased recidivism, healed the harm done to victims, and transformed lives with understanding and meaningful community connections.

Restorative justice is a growing movement within the educational and criminal justice systems in the US and throughout the world. It is an approach to justice that focuses on the rehabilitation of offenders through reconciliation with harmed parties (victims) and the community at large. When those that have been harmed, offenders, and community members meet to decide how to repair harm, the results can be transformational.

Those harmed take an active role in the process, while offenders are encouraged to take responsibility for their actions "to repair the harm they've done." This approach fosters dialogue between the harmed party (victim) and offender and it shows the highest rates of satisfaction and offender accountability. The process also holds the potential for those harmed and their families to have a direct voice in determining just outcomes and reestablishes the role of the community in supporting all parties affected by crime.

PREVENTION

Restorative Schools

Restorative justice in schools is a front line for preventing lives of crime. Rather than detention, suspension and expulsion — all of which thwart learning — restorative justice builds on the power of relationships, creating a cultural shift in how schools respond to misbehavior and wrong-doing. Students are provided a supportive means to take accountability for their actions, to hear from victims they've harmed, and to take steps to repair the damage they've caused. RJP offers ongoing restorative intervention through school trainings in restorative justice, victim offender mediation and restorative conferencing.

INTERVENTION

Court Diversion - Restorative Community Conferencing

Judges, prosecutors, and probation officers can divert youth and young adults who have committed a crime from the traditional path of criminal justice – conviction, criminal record and in some cases incarceration – to Restorative Community Conferencing. In these circles, victims talk about the damage that was caused and the impact on their lives. The offenders tell what happened and take accountability for the harm they caused. With the help of community participants, they reach consensus on how offenders can repair the harm they have caused. When the offenders complete these agreements, usually with the help of an RJP volunteer mentor, the court typically reduces or dismisses the charges.

REINTEGRATION

Reintegrating prisoners into community

In partnership with the Maine Coastal Regional Reentry Center, the Waldo County Sheriff's Office and Volunteers of America, RJP applies the principles and practices of restorative justice to build trust and relationships among men and staff in the Center and in the community of Belfast and surrounding area. At any given time, up to 32 resident men complete a rigorous application and selection process to finish the final eight to twelve months of their sentences at the Center. We match these residents with mentors from the community, teach them restorative justice and facilitate circles to address issues and resolve conflict.

For more information contact RJP at info@rjpmidcoast.org or check out the website at <http://www.rjpmidcoast.org/>

VOTE FOR THE 2015-2016 CHARITIES WITH SOUL

UUCB divides its weekly collection plate with charities selected annually by the congregation. Please do select ten charities that you would like to receive one-half of the collection plate for 2015-2016. Feel free to use the ballot in this issue of the newsletter, and return it to the church office by Friday, May 8. Thank you! -- The Working for Justice Steering Group

WORKING FOR JUSTICE

AN UPDATE ON RESTORATIVE JUSTICE IN BRUNSWICK AND AN INVITATION TO JOIN AN EXPLORATORY CIRCLE

Last spring a collaborative group from Bowdoin College, First Parish, St. Paul's and UU Church of Brunswick organized a community forum based on Michelle Alexander's book, Mass Incarceration in an Age of Colorblindness. That group went on to explore the possibility of introducing restorative justice values and practices to the Brunswick community. With guidance and facilitation from Restorative Justice Institute of Maine (RJIM), members of the collaborative read Howard Zehr's The Little Book of Restorative Justice, and many participated in a series of five Exploratory Circles to learn more about the concepts and principles of restorative practices. Circle participants experienced the potential power of those practices in personal relationship and community and are now prepared to facilitate Exploratory Circles themselves.

By "training trainers", RJIM is able to strengthen its capacity (and mission) to expand restorative practices in Maine. At the same time that this second series of Exploratory Circles is being offered to individuals, RJIM is reaching out at a systems wide level to several Maine communities, including Brunswick. Within months RJIM hopes to initiate a wider community conversation to establish restorative practices services in Brunswick with potential roles and appropriate training for those interested.

We are all encouraged to read Howard Zehr's short but very informative book and to consider participating in an Exploratory Circle. When individuals within a community develop a thorough understanding of restorative values and practices, the culture of that community begins to shift, making attempts at community wide action more effective.

Copies of The Little Book of Restorative Justice are available for $5.00 at the UUCB and St. Paul's church offices, and two series of Exploratory Circles are being scheduled for three 2 hour sessions each:
Wednesdays, 3-5pm (6/10, 6/17, 6/24) or Saturdays, 9:30-11:30am (6/13, 6/20, 6/27).

For more information about the book or Exploratory Circles, contact Cathey Cyrus through the UUCB church office 729-8515.

From the Working for Justice Steering Group

THANK YOU to all who contributed to the Guest At Your Table effort to raise money for the Unitarian Universalist Service Committee. Altogether our congregation raised $1624.98 to support UUSC justice work around the world.

APPRECIATION FOR OUR BEAUTIFUL SPRING FLOWERS

Last Fall Pat Harris' mother, Margaret, made a donation of Spring bulbs to UUCB. In November, Pat, Pat Moore, and Clara Ross planted 148 bulbs. Mid April saw the Crocus vernus Remembrance' poke their heads out of the ground. Then the Narcissus 'Bell Song', and finally the Ipheion Constellation of Blue Stars Mixture arrived. Thank you to Margaret and her generosity so we may experience some flowers of Spring time enjoyment for years to come.

Pat's Momma, Margaret, passed away this past winter.

The church chose ending inequality in January as our vision for focusing energy and action over the next several years. The End Inequality Team was formed in mid-March.

Our statement of purpose reads as follows: "The purpose of the End Inequality Leadership Team is to guide a compassionate, respectful process, with the congregation, to create a focused approach to ending inequality."

Over the next six weeks we will be asking the congregation for their feelings, ideas and priorities as we move forward together.

MEMBERSHIP

JOIN US AT "YOU AND UU" ORIENTATION

Do you have questions about Unitarian Universalism? Would you like to learn about or refresh your knowledge of our history and theology? We promise an interesting morning to address these interests at our class affectionately named, "You and UU." Read on!

Please join us at the church on Saturday, May 16, from 9-11 when Membership Committee will host this orientation class, led by Rev. Sylvia Stocker. It is open to newcomers as well as seasoned friends and members of our congregation.

Possibly you are considering membership at UUCB, although membership is optional after taking the class. The orientation class will prepare you to make this commitment if you desire. During the class you will feel more connected to our congregation and its committees and leaders. Also, this is a wonderful time to get to know our minister, Sylvia, beyond the pulpit.

The session promises to be filled with interesting facts and anecdotes from Sylvia's vast knowledge of Unitarian Universalism. It will be a time of learning, fun, contemplation, and sharing of your many life experiences. Many have taken the class more than once to build on the information presented.

They remarked that they felt a deeper sense of connection and commitment to our church as well. So please join us for this special opportunity!

We'll enjoy breakfast snacks and a light lunch as well. Please let us know if you need childcare. You may register at the Visitor Table if you'd like to take part in this class, or call the church office, 729-8515.

NEW MEMBER CEREMONY AND CELEBRATION!

During the worship service on June 7 the congregation will share in a special service to formally welcome those who have signed the Membership Book during recent months.

This ceremony will be followed by a gala coffee hour. Please come and meet our newest members!

WOULD YOU LIKE TO LEAD A SUMMER WORSHIP SERVICE?

During the summer, when Rev. Stocker takes a well-deserved break, the UUCB Worship Committee provides a series of meaningful lay led services to keep us connected, to inspire us, and to invite new and/or different voices into the pulpit to share their thoughts and ideas.

The Worship Committee is beginning the planning process and wants to know if you (members and friends) have the desire and willingness to lead a service this summer? Those of you who have done this before are, of course, invited to return. We also extend an invitation to first timers. If the thought is a scary one to you, please know that you will be mentored through the entire process by a Worship Associate who will help you with the planning and implementation of your service. Summer services this year officially begin on June 21st and run thru August 30th.

2015-16 PLEDGE DRIVE

KICK-OFF SUNDAY

The choir leads the congregation in the Pledge Drive Theme Song, to the tune of New York, New York. Words by Reg Elwell:

Start spreading the news.
 We need you today.
 Oh, come and be a part of it and help us pay.
 We have a new church.
 It's yours and it's mine.
 The mission we are striving for puts us on the line.
 We want to care for this place and keep it shining bright,
 And give to all who come near a welcoming sight.
 We work on our dreams.
 We strive for each goal.
 Can we end inequality for one and all?
 If we all give a hand, we'll build a greener land,
 It's up to you and you UU's.
 Sylvia's here to preach for us, Nocolé leads R.E.
 We want to pay for Shirley and fill out Tony's hours.
 Support the choir and their song, keep our faith strong.
 We need a pledge from you.
 This work is ours.
 This church is our own and needs one and all
 To make a brand new start of it and pledge today
 Write out a pledge and see a better community.
 Come on, come through, UU's UU's.

After the first 2 weeks of canvassing, we are well on our way to reaching our Canvass goal. With 74% of the pledges in, we have reached approximately 85% of our goal.

We are hoping that we can receive the rest of the pledges by the end of our 3rd week.

Let's make it happen!

Canada and the US began trying to get healthcare for all citizens years ago. How did Canada succeed while we did not? Maine AllCare presents the story in this 35-minute movie.

Can we step up for our citizens? Reactions from Dr. Deb Hagler (Martins Point), Rep. Mattie Daughtry (Maine House Dist. 49) and Melissa Fochesato (Access Health) followed by audience discussion.

May 20, 7-8:30 PM

SUNDAY MORNING FOCAL POINTS

We are in need of one or two people to organize flowers and/or other focal points for our services. This involves publicizing the need and recruiting people either to bring flowers or to work with the worship leader to create a suitable focal point of some kind. This can be a small, contained job. If you are interested, please speak to Sylvia.

The following Sundays need flowers or focal points:

May 3
May 10
May 17
May 24
May 31

Please consider signing up for one of the dates. Signup sheet is just outside the kitchen.
