FROM OUR DIRECTOR OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION (DRE)

s I write this, the Religious Education (RE) program just wrapped up another year with a fun worship service that celebrated the children, youth, volunteers, and all that we learned together over the past 9 months. In our RE classes and activities we explored Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism, Judaism, and Christianity, and created quilt squares (based on what we learned) which some talented volunteers will piece together into a beautiful quilt over the summer. This world religion themed quilt will be a beautiful piece of art that will decorate our space this fall. And speaking of space- the move into our new building was hectic and challenging but boy, was all the wait and the work worth it or what?! Our building is amazing and even though we only had a month and a half of RE programming there, it has already made a big impact. Perhaps it's a strategy that more churches should year is Unitarian Universalist History and Identity. We will be adding back a separate class for PreK and Kindergarteners along with our classes for Grades 1-3, and Grades 4-6. We're still looking for a few people to join the teaching team for the PreK-K class so if you think that reading picture books and playing with 4-5 year olds for about 8 Sundays out of the year sounds like fun, let me know! We're also excited to offer Coming of Age for our 9-12th graders, along with youth group for grades 7-9. And finally, we have some intergenerational events in the works- a Halloween potluck, our annual YMCA pool party, an all-church game night, and more.

The theme for the 2014/2015 program

... MINISTER'S MUSINGS ...

ave you seen the beautiful wrought iron chalice that now adorns the wall behind the pulpit? Let me tell you how it came to be there.

A couple of years ago, while Minister Emeritus Brad Mitchell was delving into our congregation's history, he discovered that the grandson of one of our former ministers had created a family foundation that funds many Unitarian Universalist ventures. The minister, Rev. Otto Raspe, served the Brunswick Universalist Church from 1915 to 1921. Rev. Raspe's grandson is a man by the name of Richard Barrett.

Rev. Raspe was called to our congregation some 30 years after the building on the corner of Pleasant and Middle was built - the building that subsequently burned in 2011 and we have now replaced. He was here back in the days when the only meeting rooms were in the (unheated) steeple or the (sometimes heated) sanctuary, the basement was a dirtfloor basement with a stove (the only source of heat for the whole building) that had to be stoked by hand on Sunday morning, and there was no running water in the building. How different Sunday mornings must have been in those times! Rev. Raspe's children were born here in Brunswick, among them his daughter Amalia, who is still living and remembers the Brunswick church.

Rev. Raspe was a devoted Universalist minister. He was ordained in Morrisville, Vermont, on April 11, 1906. He served churches in Massachusetts, Maine, and Vermont. In 1922, the Iowa Universalist Convention published his work entitled "The Five Pillars in the Temple of Universalism," which illuminated Universalist history and beliefs.

Amalia's son Richard Barrett and his wife Elaine established the Barrett Foundation, which donates generously to the Unitarian Universalist Association (UUA), UU churches and UU initiatives that fall within the scope of their interests, educational institutions with which the family is associated, and various social justice, environmental, and animal welfare programs. Richard Barrett credits his grandfather, Otto Raspe, as being the inspiration behind much of his foundation's work.

When Brad discovered the connection between the Barrett Foundation and our church history, he told me, and I passed the word along to the grant writing task force. Together with the Building Team, we worked on a request to the Barrett Foundation for a grant of $10,000 to help fund our solar panels. Richard Barrett's reply came back shortly after we sent the letter: Of course, the Barrett Foundation would be delighted to grant us $10,000 to use towards the solar panels or anything else related to the building project.

In addition, he offered to commission the chalice, made by Colorado metal worker Uriah Bueller, you now see when you enter the sanctuary. The Building Team considered different locations to hang the chalice and ultimately decided it should go behind the pulpit. Thanks to Dave Damour, Cathy Meany, and Mike Heath, the chalice is now installed front and center, a beautiful, meaningful, and eye-catching piece that connects us both to the past and the present and will help guide us into the future

You never know where you might find help in life. Sometimes it comes in unexpected and surprising ways. We offer a deep bow of gratitude to the Barretts and to Rev. Otto Raspe as well, who served us in his time.

Love, Sylvia

Maya Angelou

"A bird doesn't sing because it has an answer. It sings because it has a song."

"We may encounter many defeats but we must not be defeated."

"I am a Woman Phenomenally. Phenomenal Woman, that's me." "I believe that each of us comes from the creator trailing wisps of glory."

"Try to be a rainbow in someone's cloud."

WELCOME NEW MEMBERS

The heart of our church is always energized by the presence of new members and friends. The You and UU orientation class on May 17th included seasoned UUs relocating here from other areas of the country, as well as local and relocating newcomers to our church. The conversation was lively and interesting with expressions of significant journeys to our church.

Do say hello to our eight new members, and don't forget to say hello to newcomers you might not have met! The following attendees signed the membership book on May 17, 2014:

Christoph Aeppli Leah Bauer
Edward (Ted) Berrett Nan Hughes
Dana Pratt Norm Rich
Susan Thorner Jane Garman

They will be recognized on Sunday, June 8th during our church service.

Welcome!

Deborah Zorach for the Membership Committee

THE NARTHEX

ANNOUNCING "FELLOWSHIP HALL!"

Using the preference voting method to rename the narthex, Fellowship Hall received the most votes from a slate of seventeen names submitted by the congregation. Almost half the membership voted (94 individuals), both last Sunday and via email during the week.

As a reminder, preference voting asks voters to choose a first, second, and third choice. These votes are weighted and then totaled. The preference voting method is especially useful when no one choice gets a majority of votes: second and third choices can help choose a name acceptable to the largest number of voters.

Many thanks to all who participated. See you in Fellowship Hall!

A HEALTHY LUNCH

MUUSAN

Maine Unitarian Universalist State Advocacy Network

Giving Voice to UU Values in the Public Arena

I agreed to become the congregational liaison for UUCB with MUUSAN and attended my first meeting in Augusta on May 24th. There were 20 people in attendance from 10 Maine UU churches. I was quite impressed with the amount of action and successful advocacy that has been done in a year and a half. Here is some background:

In the fall of 2012, Maine became the 17th state to create a State Advocacy Network. By April of 2013 the number increased to 22 states. MUUSAN is building a statewide advocacy anchored in the UU faith and animated by its principles giving voice to Unitarian Universalist values in the public arena through a statewide advocacy and public policy network anchored in our faith and animated by its principles. In a denomination that is characterized by social activism, there is a calling to bring those UU values to bear in the public arena - in the State legislature - in the news media - in the development of policy - and in the pursuit of justice.

Unitarian Universalism calls us to change oppressive policies and structures to those that promote human development, protect the environment, and support communities. The MUUSAN mission is to educate and to organize for a more just society.

MUUSAN has undertaken to effect change in three issue areas: Democracy in Action, Health Care and Climate Change. This writer has joined the issue group working on Health Care. Successes this year include MUUSAN becoming an endorsing partner with Maine Citizens for Clean Elections. MUUSAN members worked tirelessly to bring forward MaineCare expansion and although this legislation was vetoed by the Governor - the bill did pass. On the issue of Climate Change several Maine congregations have voted in favor of a resolution to divest from fossil fuels.

CONGREGATIONAL LIAISON

I have volunteered to fill the role of UUCB liaison and will attend the monthly meetings and report back to the church of activities and actions MUUSAN is taking part in. I am a peace advocate and have been involved in several congressional and senate campaigns as well as Maine coordinator for the campaign for a U.S. Department of Peacebuilding (HR808). Look for announcements on the Working for Justice Pay Attention Board at church and in announcements placed in Order of Worship and monthly Parish Messenger.

CALL TO ACTION ALERT

I will soon have petitions to be signed to support a ballot initiative for clean elections.

The next MUUSAN meeting will be held in September 2014 at the UU Church of Belfast.

For more information contact Lynn Ellis at lynnsellis@yahoo.com and also visit the NEW MUUSAN website (still in progress) at www.muusan.org

WOMEN'S ALLIANCE

Women's Alliance held its last meeting of the year in our new building with a potluck dinner. Everyone enjoyed the time to share. Adair Delamater and Penny Elwell will be the Leaders next year with Jean Tompkins continuing as Secretary and Sue Ellen Damour as Treasurer. The concensus reached by the women attending is to stay independent, focus on enrichment programs and do minimal fund raising as needed for our programs and a pledge to the church.

In September we will start our new year with Esther Palmer recalling her youth in Europe during WWII at a potluck supper. All will be welcome. Our schedule of meeting days/times for the entire year is on the UUCB calendar.

JUNE CHARITY WITH SOUL

he Restorative Justice Project of the Midcoast promotes fundamental change in the justice system and schools. Our responses to crime and wrongdoing seek renewal and safety for the community, support and healing for victims and accountability and reintegration of the offender.

Program Overview

Current programs offered at RJP are Restorative School Practices, Community Resolution Teams, Court Deferred Dispositions, Community Reentry Programs, and Maine Coastal Regional Reentry Center. To learn more about these programs see the chart at http://ripmidcoast.org/cms/program-overview.

Volunteer Opportunities

Mentoring

Individuals interested in serving as mentors can do so in a number of ways with students at local schools, juveniles involved with probation or the courts, young adults on deferred dispositions with the court or inmates reentering the community from jail. In addition, mentors who have an interest in co-mentoring with small groups of participants will have the opportunity to do so at the Maine Coastal Regional Reentry Center. Mentors generally meet with the participant once per week for an hour or more, over a 6 to 18 month time period.

Conference Facilitators

Those with group facilitation skills are invited to participate in community resolution conferences with any one of our programs. Facilitators organize the conferences by bringing the person harmed and the offender (and his/her family members, in most cases involving juveniles), together with community members to participate in a dialogue related to the incident and to help all persons affected to reach an agreement regarding ways of repairing the harm and to begin to offer some form(s) of restitution. Cases are referred to RJP through schools, juvenile probation, the courts or local law enforcement.

Community Observers

Offers the opportunity for members of the community to participate in community resolution conference with persons who have caused harm and to share how their choices and actions have affected the larger community. The harm that has been done has caused a "ripple" effect that impacts, not only those immediately involved in the incident that caused the harm, but the social fabric of our community as well.

Other

Other opportunities are available that relate to the broader operations of the organization. As a volunteer based non-profit, we seek the expertise and professional skills of members of our community. Skills in grantwriting, public relations, technology, event sponsorship, recruitment, community organizing, and others are valued by RJP Midcoast. We also need to identify connections to employment and training, housing, educational resources as well as ways to help people navigate the legal and social service systems that directly impact our program participants.

For more information contact RJP at info@rjpmidcoast.org or check out the website at http://www.rjpmidcoast.org/

Restorative Justice of the Midcoast volunteers learn how to conduct a community resolution conference during a training session.

FROM THE BOARD CHAIR

It was Henry James who said, "...summer afternoon; to me those have always been the two most beautiful words in the English language." With any luck June 8—the date of our Annual Meeting—will be a beautiful early summer day, filling the Sanctuary with sunlight. Regardless of the weather, of course, we encourage you to stay for the meeting. The Annual Meeting is an important event in the life of the congregation, and this year we have several matters to bring to a vote: the 2014-15 Budget, two amendments to the Bylaws, and the affirmation of a new list of Charities with Soul. You have received notice of Bylaws changes via email, and the new Charities with Soul will be available at the meeting. In this column I'd like to talk about everyone's favorite topic: the budget.

To refresh your memory about this process, the Finance Committee develops a budget based on requests from committees, the Board's recommendation for staff salaries, and the Annual Budget Drive's target for annual pledges. Ideally, both expenses and dreams are understood as each of us determines our annual pledge. In this busy spring of moving into a new building, however, many pledges were made before these goals were known.

What are the highlights of the proposed budget? It includes a very modest 1.5% cost of living increase for staff. It adds a few more hours a week during the winter months for our Custodian. It maintains the music stipends at current levels. It makes a best guess at what it will actually cost to heat and cool our new building and how often we will be able to rent it out.

What has been omitted? We are still not able to bring our Minister to the mid-point of the UUA suggested salary range, despite the fact that she is experienced and has been with us for more than seven years. The budget does not permit us to hire a Music Director (even quarter-time), despite an overwhelming agreement by the congregation of the benefits of this position. It does not allow us to provide a more generous cost of living increase to our hard-working staff. And it does not enable us to pay a stipend to our Ministerial Intern.

All of us on the Board are grateful for the congregation's response to the Pledge Drive. At the time of this writing, however, there is still a gap between pledges required for even the modest increases outlined above and those that have been received to date. Pledges are still coming in. If you haven't turned yours in yet, or if you want to reconsider the amount based on the information above, we encourage you to do so! Just call the Church Office. In addition, the Finance Committee will be holding an informational meeting immediately after the service on June 1 to answer questions regarding the budget alternatives.

Again and again at the Board Meeting, Trustees expressed the same sentiment: our church has so much momentum right now that we can't imagine not reaching our goals. Each week we see new faces on Sunday morning, we hear gratitude from the community, and we learn of new opportunities to make a difference in the world. Please dig deep and help us reach our goals.

Cindy Parker

FROM THE TREASURER

As the Finance Committee and the Office prepare to finish up accounting for 2013/2014 we want to thank you for your support in all the ways you undertake to do so with such generosity and great energy. In looking at the financial component of that support I ask that you review your giving for the year to insure that you are giving the Church all the help you intend to.

As of the end of April Pledge and Gift income was about $11,000 below budget with just two months before the year ends. Expenses are somewhat lower and that helps, but it would be best if our revenue could improve a little before the year ends.

With regard to the Capital Campaign, we will be at the end of the second year or about 67% through the campaign at the end of May, but in terms of the amount originally pledged we are at the 77% point. So, we are in a good position to start the final year of the campaign.

Thanks again for all your help in all the wonderful ways that you provide it.

Dave Damour, treasurer
